

Wildlife in Kenya

Your stay in Ngurunit offers you a chance to meet wild animals in their natural habitat. Close to Ngurunit you find Samburu National Park with exclusive lodges and comfortable facilities. There are also several other safari parks in Kenya.

You will love Ngurunit!

Ngurunit is a beautiful place, close to the Ndoto Mountains, with lots of traditions and friendly people. The Samburu and Rendille communities are pastoralists and nomads. They live in traditional homesteads, manyattas, and are depending on their livestock, cattle, camels and goats.

Community Building

During your time in Ngurunit you will get a chance to share questions and stories of life with the local community. Experience how education and development walk hand in hand!

There is a local market with handicrafts and jewelry and not far from the village is even a natural swimming pool.

Ngurunit is an ideal place for a conference when you want to share experiences of life and knowledge, the academic world and the more practical world in the community, learning in the local environment.

Education and Community Building

Learning in the Local Environment

Bridging Ages Conference in Ngurunit, Kenya, 26-28 August 2014

Education and Community Building Learning in the Local Environment

Bridging Ages Conference in Ngurunit, Kenya, 26-28 August 2014

Organizers: BANK, Bridging Ages Northern Kenya, together with Kenyan and Swedish partners

We invite everyone who has an interest in Learning and Education, History and Community Building, people from museums, schools, universities, cultural organizations and municipalities, educators in all subjects; academics as well as engaged community members. This is a similar but different conference, something you will remember and learn from.

There will be seminars, presentations and workshops on Education and Learning from all over the world. One day is a full experience of traditional life in the village and in the manyattas, a Time Travel to today and the recent past, stories, songs, moran dances, food, traditional craft and technique, ceremonies, hopefully even a camel derby or a donkey race.

Bridging Ages is an International Organization in Historic Environment Education and Time Travels. Focus is on learning in the local history, connected to the issues and needs of today. People and institutions from 22 countries on 4 continents are part of the organization.

Practical information

The delegates arrange their flights to and from Nairobi, the local organizer take care of the transport from Nairobi to Ngurunit and back (one long day or two shorter days).

Accommodation is at one of the campsites in Ngurunit, you choose comfort. The campsites are guarded 24 hours, and except for one or two geckos or monkeys you do not have to fear any unexpected visitors.

There is a medical clinic in Ngurunit.

There will be a mixture of traditional Kenyan and western food cooked in a safe way.

A Conference for Learning

Learning on all levels is in focus at the conference: academics and community, past and present, local and global, a chance to learn from one another, a reflective dialogue, various subjects, also the ongoing project Mathematics in the Historic Environment.

Welcome!

BANK – Bridging Ages Northern Kenya

For more information, contact steven\_labarakwe@yahoo.com or check the Bridging Ages website, www.bridgingages.com

Lasamu Campsite, Ngurunit, Marsabit County

